News and Information

July 2020

Next meeting is November 21, 2020. Zoom Info at end of newsletter!

Treasurer's Report

General fund $6,878.47

Workshop fund $4,898.24

Exhibitions fund $322

Symphony Fund $145

Total $12,239.47

As Beth McDonald has moved back to the mainland, Beverly Marshall has assumed responsibilities as treasurer until a new treasurer can be officially elected.

Member workshops

No workshops are planned because of covid. Nelson Pacheco might offer a photo art workshop on photographing oil on water and/or soap bubbles by zoom. More info to follow.

Restaurant Exhibition

Currently we have approximately 40 pieces in the restaurants Chinchos & Cbar. Just this month 7 pieces have sold from the Chinchos location and 9 pieces since the project began. Reminder that the restaurant receives 10% of the sale price. Also noted, these exhibits have brought us 5 new members.

A new hanging system has been purchased for Chinchos.

We will be re-hanging this exhibition next week and also adding art at Ladis and Puravida restaurants. You are encouraged to submit new pieces to be included please contact Annette Steele as soon as possible.

We received a write up in the print and online magazine for Life&Live Palmas. See the following link.

Brochure:

The Guild brochure must be updated, Maria had contacted Marina Rivon, graphic artist, who will redo it. If anyone wants to submit via email a full resolution photo of possible art (at least 2-3 MB JPG) to be included in brochure, these will be considered. Please send to Sabrina or Maria (marilaypr@gmail.com). Exhibition curators will select approximately 10 photos to forward to the graphic designer who will determine which shall be used. Due date for those submissions is November 1st.

Silent auction

Scheduled for February 12, 2021. We will keep it on the calendar for February, and will re-evaluate as we come nearer the date how to execute the event with pandemic concerns. Sabrina will check with Tony to see if we might reserve the space for the full weekend to do an open house sort of event. Additional possibilities including an online silent auction and/or postponing till March. So please get inspired! we need your donation artwork for this event to be successful!

Beware:

Website and Facebook Nelson mentioned an ongoing scam whereas some members have been approached by email to buy some of their work and a check will be sent. If the buyer is suggesting you choose the work, or if you have an odd or unexpected approach, please don't share any personal info, and include Nelson in the loop.

Announcements

Lee Johnson has begun a personal Instagram page, and members are encouraged to follow her at <https://www.instagram.com/uleejohnson/>. Members may also begin their own Instagram page if they want to publicize their art that way.

Several members have been taking online classes to keep their skills fresh and stay engaged during this isolation that is a result of the pandemic, Carol mentioned she had taken a Lillian Kennedy and Jan Guarino course. There are also many free tutorials on YouTube.

WEBSITE AND FACEBOOK

Contact Nelson Pacheco our webmaster if you have new work and want to update or create your EEAG website page, let Nelson know at nspacheco@gmail.com. This service is free to all members. Also noted there is a tutorial on the website about how to prepare your work to be included online.
